

The IDEAL Collaboration

Idea, Development, Exploration, Assessment, Long-term follow-up

How should we evaluate innovations in a crisis?

Free online IDEAL event - Friday 3 July 2020 (13.00 - 15.30 UK time)

Final Programme

13:00 - 13:05 Short word of welcome by Maroeska Rovers , Professor of Evidenced-Based Surgery at Radboud University Medical Centre, Nijmegen, Netherlands
13:05 - 13:17 Recap on IDEAL and why the framework needs to be adjusted to deal with emergency scenarios - Peter McCulloch , Professor of Surgical Science and Practice, Nuffield Dept of Surgical Sciences, University of Oxford, UK
13:17 - 13:29 Innovations in disaster relief scenarios - Mamoon Rashid , Professor of Plastic Surgery, STM University & Head, Dept. of Plastic Surgery, Shifa International Hospital. Islamabad, Pakistan
13:29 - 13:37 Questions/discussion
13:37 - 13:49 How to assess innovations in a crisis - Marion Campbell , Vice Principal (Research) & Prof of Health Services Research, Health Services Research Unit, University of Aberdeen, UK
13:49 - 13:57 Questions/discussion
13:57 - 14:09 Ethical considerations - Dr Katrina Hutchison , Research Fellow (MQRF) Department of Philosophy, Macquarie University, NSW, Australia
14:09 - 14:17 Questions/discussion
14:17 - 14:29 Public & Patient Involvement in emergency research - Derek Stewart , PPI Lead with the MRC NIHR Trials Methodology Research Partnership
14:29 - 14:40 General discussion about all aspects
14:40 - 14:45  Grab a coffee or tea yourself
14:45 - 15:30 Session 1: Tea corner meet people from the IDEAL Collaboration to discuss more about our work
14:45 - 15:30 Session 2: Sandpit session where researchers can pitch their idea and get advice/feedback from others in that session

To register your interest in the event please complete the Registration Form